DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims are replete with lack of antecedent basis errors and general indefiniteness. Claim 1 will be illustrated to point out a few of these occurrences. In line 4 [applicant's numbering of lines], the phrase "and front panel" is not properly understood because the specification is silent as to a "front panel" and the claim later recites a "flipper door" that could be construed as this limitation [making the limitation "a flipper door" a double inclusion rejection], does applicant mean "and front side" instead? In lines 6-7, 13, 20-21, 22-23 etc., the phrase "said wall cabinet" does not have a proper antecedent basis [previously referenced as a "wall cabinet storage kit"], not sure if this is to be a new limitation of the main "kit". In line 16 [and similarly in line 18], the phrase "a left side panel" is unclear, since it is not clear if the "left side panel" is being referred back to the "left side" or "left side panel" as referenced in line 4. If in line 4, the "left side" is the limitation, then line 16 is clear. If in line 4, the "left side panel" is meant [although not clearly termed as such], then line 16 should be --the left side panel-- so as to obviate a double inclusion rejection. In line 20, the phrase "the back" does not have a proper antecedent basis. In line 2 on the page 24, the phrase "said panel" does not have a proper antecedent basis. These are just a few examples of the numerous indefiniteness concerns within the body of the claims.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Pending further review and consideration, Claims 1-16 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. French publication 1099359, Grunert, Propst et al., and Roesler describe cabinet structures with flipper doors/elements.
